June 2017

There has been a general slowdown in sales across the country, and this cannot be blamed on negative economic news. Unemployment remains low and wage growth, though nothing to overly celebrate, has held steady or increased for several years in a row. There is strong demand for home buying, emphasized by higher prices and multiple offers on homes for sale in many submarkets. As has been the case for month after month – and now year after year – low inventory is the primary culprit for any sales malaise rather than lack of offers.

New Listings were down 32.0 percent to 51. Pending Sales increased 27.5 percent to 51. Inventory shrank 19.8 percent to 243 units.

Prices were still soft as Median Sales Price was down 3.9 percent to $104,500. Days on Market increased 7.9 percent to 109. Months Supply of Homes for Sale was down 26.5 percent to 6.1 months, indicating that demand increased relative to supply.

With job creation increasing and mortgage rates remaining low, the pull toward homeownership is expected to continue. Yet housing starts have been drifting lower, and some are beginning to worry that a more serious housing shortage could be in the cards if new construction and building permit applications continue to come in lower in year-over-year comparisons while demand remains high. Homebuilder confidence suggests otherwise, so predictions of a gloomy future should be curbed for the time being.
