November 2018

The booming U.S. economy continues to prop up home sales and new listings in much of the nation, although housing affordability remains a concern. Historically, housing is still relatively affordable. Although Freddie Mac recently reported that the 30-year fixed rate is at its highest average in seven years, reaching 4.94 percent, average rates were 5.97 percent ten years ago, 6.78 percent 20 years ago and 10.39 percent 30 years ago. Nevertheless, affordability concerns are causing a slowdown in home price growth in some markets, while price reductions are becoming more common.

New Listings were down 29.1 percent to 39. Pending Sales increased 13.9 percent to 41. Inventory shrank 35.5 percent to 156 units.

Prices moved higher as Median Sales Price was up 17.8 percent to $114,250. Days on Market decreased 20.0 percent to 92. Months Supply of Homes for Sale was down 38.7 percent to 3.8 months, indicating that demand increased relative to supply.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics recently reported that the national unemployment rate was at 3.7 percent. Low unemployment has helped the housing industry during this extensive period of U.S. economic prosperity. Home buying and selling activity relies on gainful employment. It also relies on demand, and builders are showing caution by breaking ground on fewer single-family home construction projects in the face of rising mortgage rates and fewer showings.
