November 2018

The booming U.S. economy continues to prop up home sales and new listings in much of the nation, although housing affordability remains a concern. Historically, housing is still relatively affordable. Although Freddie Mac recently reported that the 30-year fixed rate is at its highest average in seven years, reaching 4.94 percent, average rates were 5.97 percent ten years ago, 6.78 percent 20 years ago and 10.39 percent 30 years ago. Nevertheless, affordability concerns are causing a slowdown in home price growth in some markets, while price reductions are becoming more common.

New Listings were down 25.0 percent to 9. Pending Sales increased 57.1 percent to 11. Inventory shrank 25.9 percent to 43 units.

Prices were still soft as Median Sales Price was down 38.5 percent to $79,875. Days on Market increased 69.9 percent to 124. Months Supply of Homes for Sale was down 28.9 percent to 5.4 months, indicating that demand increased relative to supply.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics recently reported that the national unemployment rate was at 3.7 percent. Low unemployment has helped the housing industry during this extensive period of U.S. economic prosperity. Home buying and selling activity relies on gainful employment. It also relies on demand, and builders are showing caution by breaking ground on fewer single-family home construction projects in the face of rising mortgage rates and fewer showings.
