

Monthly Indicators

February 2017

The start of the year ushered in a wave of good news about a hot stock market, higher wages and an active home sales environment. At the same time, housing prices have continued to rise, and the low inventory situation and affordability crunch has been particularly hard on first-time buyers struggling to get into the market. Nevertheless, buyer activity is easily outpacing seller activity in much of the country, culminating in relatively quick sales and low supply. Demand definitely remained strong this month.

New Listings were up 1.6 percent to 64. Pending Sales increased 31.7 percent to 54. Inventory shrank 11.0 percent to 274 units.

Prices were still soft as Median Sales Price was down 11.0 percent to $75,000. Days on Market decreased 8.0 percent to 127. Months Supply of Homes for Sale was down 22.2 percent to 6.3 months, indicating that demand increased relative to supply.

Unemployment has reached pre-recession levels, and Americans remain optimistic about finding quality employment. This matters because job growth and higher paychecks fuel home purchases. Unfortunately, that won't matter for potential buyers if price appreciation outpaces income growth and if mortgage rates continue their upward trend. Sellers are getting a generous number of offers in this market. The worry for sellers then becomes that there will not be a generous number of homes to choose from when they become buyers.
